Virginia Votes 1999–2002

Copyright © 2008
by the Rector and Visitors of the University of Virginia

Printed in the United States of America

Other volumes in this series:

By Ralph Eisenberg:
Virginia Votes 1924–1968

By Larry J. Sabato:
Virginia Votes 1969–1974
Virginia Votes 1975–1978
Virginia Votes 1979–1982
Virginia Votes 1983–1986
Virginia Votes 1987–1990
To those men and women whose lives were taken away on September 11, 2001. May the tragedy of their deaths remind us of the sacredness of democracy and the frailty of freedom.
Contents

Dedication ................................................................. iii
Introduction ............................................................ vii
List of Figures .......................................................... ix
List of Tables ........................................................... xi

Chapter 1: The 1999 General Assembly Elections .................. 1
Reversal of a Century: How the Republicans Finally Took Over the Virginia General Assembly ............................................. 3

Chapter 2: The 2000 Republican Presidential Primary ............ 19
Virginia Finally Matters in Presidential Nominating Politics ........... 21
Appendix 1: Republican Primary for President, February 29, 2000 ... 32

Chapter 3: The 2000 Presidential and Congressional Contests .... 39
Chaos in Florida, Predictability in Virginia .......................... 41
Appendix 2: General Election for President and Vice President,
November 7, 2000 ..................................................... 70
Appendix 3: General Election for U.S. Senate, November 7, 2000 ... 76
Appendix 4: Proposed Constitutional Amendment,
November 7, 2000 (Hunting and Fishing) ......................... 79
Appendix 5: Proposed Constitutional Amendment,
November 7, 2000 (Lottery Proceeds Fund) ...................... 82

Chapter 4: The 2001 Statewide Nominations ....................... 85
Gubernatorial Twist: Democratic Unity, Republican Division .......... 87
Appendix 6: Democratic Primary Election for Lieutenant Governor,
June, 2001 ............................................................ 108
Appendix 7: Democratic Primary Election for Attorney General,
June, 2001 ............................................................ 114

Chapter 5: The 2001 General Election ............................. 121
Democrats Recapture Governorship after Eight Years Out .......... 123
Appendix 8: General Election for Governor, November 6, 2001 ..... 164
Appendix 9: General Election for Lieutenant Governor,
November 6, 2001 ..................................................... 168
Appendix 10: General Election for Attorney General,
November 6, 2001 ..................................................... 174
Chapter 6: The 2002 U.S Senate and Congressional Elections .......... 177
Taxes Take Center Stage ......................................................... 179
Appendix 11: General Election for U.S. Senate, November 5, 2002 .... 98
Appendix 12: Proposed Constitutional Amendment 1—
Judicial Power and Jurisdiction, November 5, 2002 ................. 204
Appendix 13: Proposed Constitutional Amendment 2—Exempt
Property, November 5, 2002 .............................................. 207
Appendix 14: Proposed Bond 1—Educational Facilities,
November 5, 2002 ............................................................. 210
Appendix 15: Proposed Bond 2—Parks and Recreational Facilities,
November 5, 2002 ............................................................. 213
This is the ninth volume of the Virginia Votes series. The first volume was an invaluable statistical reference monograph compiled by Dr. Ralph Eisenberg of the University of Virginia Institute of Government, and it assembled for the first time, in one place, all the basic Virginia election results for the years 1924 through 1968. It was my great good fortune to be Dr. Eisenberg’s student during his construction of Virginia Votes, and for some misguided reason or another, he thought I had potential in the field. Even though I was a lowly undergraduate at the time, he assigned me some significant responsibilities in his research, and the then-director of the Institute of Government, Professor Weldon Cooper, encouraged him in this foolhardy experiment (me, not the volume). With brilliant, accomplished, and practical mentors such as Eisenberg and Cooper, and later on, Professors Clifton McCleskey, R.K. Ramazani, and Edgar F. Shannon, Jr., I had little excuse for failure. Beginning with the 1969–1974 edition, I have produced a Virginia Votes monograph, in the Eisenberg tradition, every four years—covering a full election cycle per volume, as required by the Old Dominion’s election-every-year system.

Yet, as I examine them in retrospect, my early editions of Virginia Votes are inelegantly written, inadequately analyzed, and barely worthy of a passing grade for an undergraduate thesis. Dear Ralph Eisenberg, one of the sweetest men I ever knew, left this earth entirely too soon at the age of 43, (in 1973). We all grieved, and still do, for there was so much good work left undone by this sterling soul. Regrettably, there was no one else but this author available to continue his work — just about anyone would have been more qualified and able — so I agreed to do so, with the encouragement of Dr. Cooper. (When he first met me in 1970, in my dirty-jeans, long-haired hippie stage of life, Cooper reportedly turned to his colleague upon my departure from the room and exclaimed, “What a mess!” I will be forever grateful that he added, after a long pause, “But I think we can work with him and shape him up.”)

My hope is that, with each new volume, my team and I can come closer to being worthy of the legacy of Ralph Eisenberg and Weldon Cooper. Gradually, we have expanded the length and breadth of each election chapter, covering topics such as public opinion polling, campaign financing, and candidate strategies in as much detail as the more traditional analysis of the voting results. All of this awaits the reader in Virginia Votes 1999–2002.

The grand sweep of Virginia’s modern political history has been fascinating.

---

The state moved from one-party Democratic, its legacy from the Civil War, seemingly to one-party Republican in a mere three decades (1969–1999). But looks are partly deceiving. Yes, Virginia is a near-lock for the GOP presidential candidate every four years; Republicans hold both U.S. Senate seats and a sizeable majority (8 of 11) of the U.S. House seats; the General Assembly moved from about two-to-one Democratic in 1987 to almost two-to-one Republican just fourteen years later; and Republicans have controlled the governorship more than half the time since 1969. Yet when the conditions are right, Democrats can still win the big races, as Mark Warner and Tim Kaine proved in capturing the governorship and lieutenant governorship in 2001.

Our consistent judgment in recent volumes of Virginia Votes has been that Virginia is a moderate-conservative state, with the emphasis on the conservative part of that formulation, and it is a two-party competitive state, but substantially Republican leaning under most circumstances. We hold to that evaluation, even though Republican readers will find relatively little to upset them in the pages of this particular edition of Virginia Votes. After all, the GOP’s long-building, first-ever, total takeover of the General Assembly in 1999 was followed quickly by the party’s capture of the state’s remaining Democratic U.S. Senate seat in 2000. In 2001 the Democrats’ victories at the top of the statehouse ticket were matched by the landslide GOP margin for state attorney general and the dramatic expansion of the Republican margin in the House of Delegates from 53 seats to 65 seats. Finally, the single most watched segment of the 2002 election in Virginia was the sizeable defeat of referenda in Northern Virginia and Hampton Roads to raise the sales tax (which would have been dedicated to transportation projects.) This was Governor Warner’s top priority, and while some elected Republicans supported him on this, the successful opposition was driven by the GOP grassroots.

These four years of elections are reviewed in the chapters that follow, and the rich stew of data for each chapter has been served up by a terrific team of staffers at the UVA Center for Politics as well as student researchers, including especially Joshua Scott and Colin Allen, as well as Samuel Towell, Rakesh Gopalan, Adam Blumenkrantz, Bruce Vlk, Matt Smyth, Molly Clancy, Allen Robinson, Dan Payne, Emily Roper, Gene Lepley, Dawn Miller, Jenny Goodlattte, Jeremy Branch, Kate Vasiloff, and Ian Gallagher. I would also like to thank the able staff of the UVA Weldon Cooper Center for Public Service, including Director John Thomas, Bill Wood, and Jayne Weber. We hope you enjoy this hearty meal of politics, and rest assured, while you are digesting this repast, we are already at work on the TENTH edition of Virginia Votes!

Larry J. Sabato, PhD
Robert Kent Gooch and University Professor of Politics
Director, Center for Politics (www.centerforpolitics.org)
University of Virginia
March 2003
List of Figures

Chapter 2
- Figure 2.01: The 2000 Virginia Republican Primary Election for President, by Cities 23
- Figure 2.02: The 2000 Virginia Republican Primary Election for President, by Counties
  27

Chapter 3
- Figure 3.01: Comparison Between George W. Bush in 2000 and George Bush in 1992, by Cities 43
- Figure 3.02: Comparison Between George W. Bush in 2000 and George Bush in 1992, by Counties 43
- Figure 3.03: The 2000 Presidential Election in Virginia, by Cities
  45
- Figure 3.04: The 2000 Presidential Election in Virginia, by Counties
  45
- Figure 3.05: Cities Carried by Robb in 1994 vs. Cities carried by Robb in 2000
  46
- Figure 3.06: Counties Carried by Robb in 1994 vs. Counties carried by Robb in 2000
  46
- Figure 3.07: The 2000 U.S. Senate Election in Virginia, by Cities
  47
- Figure 3.08: The 2000 U.S. Senate Election in Virginia, by Counties
  47
- Figure 3.09: The 2000 Vote on Lottery Proceeds, Constitutional Amendment, by Cities 65
- Figure 3.10: The 2000 Vote on Lottery Proceeds, Constitutional Amendment, by Counties 65
- Figure 3.11: The 2000 Vote on the Right to Hunt, Fish and Harvest Game, Constitutional Amendment, by Cities 66
- Figure 3.12: The 2000 Vote on the Right to Hunt, Fish and Harvest Game, Constitutional Amendment, by Counties 66

Chapter 4
- Figure 4.01: The 2001 Attorney General Democratic Primary, by Cities
  94
- Figure 4.02: The 2001 Attorney General Democratic Primary, by Counties 94
- Figure 4.03: The 2001 Lieutenant Governor Democratic Primary, by Cities 97
- Figure 4.04: The 2001 Lieutenant Governor Democratic Primary, by Counties 97
Chapter 5

| Figure 5.01 | The 2001 Gubernatorial Election, by Counties | 132 |
| Figure 5.02 | The 2001 Gubernatorial Election, by Cities | 132 |
| Figure 5.03 | The 2001 Lieutenant Gubernatorial Election, by Counties | 133 |
| Figure 5.04 | The 2001 Lieutenant Gubernatorial Election, by Cities | 133 |
| Figure 5.05 | The 2001 Attorney General Election, by Counties | 134 |
| Figure 5.06 | The 2001 Attorney General Election, by Cities | 134 |
| Figure 5.07 | The Political Map of Virginia | 139 |
| Figure 5.08 | The Political Map of Virginia, 2001 Gubernatorial Election | 140 |
Chapter 1

Table 1.01 Use of Primary Elections by Party, Virginia General Assembly, 1955–1999 .............................................. 4
Table 1.02 Primary Election Results, Virginia General Assembly, 1999 .... 5
Table 1.03 Unopposed Legislative Races, Virginia General Assembly, 1983–1999 ......................................................... 6
Table 1.04 Candidates by Party, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1967–1999 ........................................................... 6
Table 1.05 Women Candidates, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1999 ................................................................. 7
Table 1.06 Women Candidates, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1967–1999 ................................................................. 7
Table 1.07 Party Representation, Virginia General Assembly, 1967–1999 ................................................................. 7
Table 1.08 Re-election Rates, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1979–1999 ................................................................. 9
Table 1.09 Selected Election Results, General Election, Virginia General Assembly, 1999 ................................................................. 9
Table 1.10 Vote by Parties, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1999 .... 10
Table 1.11 Vote by Parties, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1969–1999 ................................................................. 11
Table 1.12 Membership Turnover, Virginia General Assembly, 1965–1999 ................................................................. 12
Table 1.13 Membership Turnover by Regional Areas, Virginia General Assembly, 1965–1999 ................................................................. 13
Table 1.14 Voter Turnout, Virginia Statewide Elections, 1980–1999 .... 13
Table 1.15 Virginia Compared to Southern and Border States, Women in State Legislatures, 1999 ................................................................. 14
Table 1.16 Virginia Compared to Southern and Border States, African Americans in State Legislatures, 1999 ................................................................. 14
Table 1.17 Campaign Spending, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1999 ................................................................. 15
Table 1.18 Percent of Total Expenditures, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1983–1999 ................................................................. 16
Chapter 2
Table 2.01 Primary Election Results, Republican Presidential Primary in Virginia, 2000 ................................................................. 21
Table 2.02 Results in Virginia, by Congressional District, 2000 Republican Primary Election of President ............................................. 22
Table 2.03 Voter Participation in Primary Elections in Virginia, 1969–2000 ...................................................................................... 22
Table 2.04 Demographic Breakdown of Virginia Voters, 2000 Republican Primary Election for President .................................................. 25
Table 2.05 Public Opinion Polls, Virginia Republican Primary Election for President, 2000 ................................................................. 26
Table 2.06 The Urban Vote, Virginia Republican Primary for President, 2000 ......................................................................................... 27
Table 2.07 Metropolitan Proportions of Statewide Vote in Virginia, 1969–2000 ............................................................................... 27
Table 2.08 Voting in Selected Predominantly Black Precincts in Virginia Cities, 2000 Republican Primary Election for President .......... 28
Table 2.09 Major Statewide Elections in Virginia by Demographic and Black Voting Patterns, 1969–2000 .............................................. 29
Table 2.10 Unopposed U.S. House Contests in Virginia, 1968–2000 .... 30
Table 2.11 Major-Party Nominations in Virginia for U.S. House, 2000 .... 31
Table 2.12 Results in Virginia, 2000 Congressional Primary .................. 31

Chapter 3
Table 3.01 General Election Results in Virginia for President and U.S. Senate, 2000 ................................................................. 42
Table 3.02 General Election Results in Virginia for President, 1948–2000 ...................................................................................... 42
Table 3.03 General Election Results in Virginia for President and U.S. Senate by Congressional District, 2000 ................................. 48
Table 3.04 Demographic Breakdown of Voters, General Election Results for President in Virginia and Nation ........................................ 49
Table 3.05 Exit Poll Data, U.S. Senate Election in Virginia, 2000 ........... 52
Table 3.06 Voter Turnout in Presidential Elections in Virginia, 1948–2000 ...................................................................................... 53
Table 3.07 Voter Turnout in Virginia, 1976–2000 .................................. 53
Table 3.08 Percent of Registered Actually Voting for President, 1980–2000 ...................................................................................... 53
Table 3.09 The Urban Virginia Vote, General Election for President and U.S. Senate, 2000 ................................................................. 54
Table 3.10 Major Statewide Elections in Virginia by Demographic and Black Voting Patterns, 1969–2000 ......................................... 54
Table 3.11 Metropolitan Proportions of Statewide Vote in Virginia, 1969–2000 ............................................................................... 56
Table 3.12 Voting in Selected Predominantly Black Precincts in Virginia Cities, General Election for President and U.S. Senate, 2000 ... 57
Table 3.13 Voter Turnout in Selected Black Precincts vs. Statewide Turnout in Virginia, 1976–2000 ..................................................... 57
Table 3.14 Public Opinion-Poll Tracking, Presidential and U.S. Senate Elections in Virginia, 2000 .............................................................. 58
Table 3.15  Election Results & Campaign Spending, Virginia General Elections for U.S. Representatives, 2000 .......................... 60
Table 3.16  Virginia General Election Results for U.S. Representatives, 1980–2000 .............................................................. 61
Table 3.17  Vote by Party, Virginia General Elections for U.S. Representatives, 1966–2000 ......................................................... 61
Table 3.18  Campaign Spending in U.S. Senate Contests in Virginia, 1978–2000 ................................................................. 62
Table 3.19  Campaign Spending in U.S. House Contests in Virginia, 1982–2000 ................................................................. 62
Table 3.20  Ballot Fall-off, Virginia Elections, 1980–2000 ...................... 63
Table 3.21  Virginia Proposed Constitutional Amendments, Election Results by Congressional District, 2000 ......................... 64
Table 3.22  Ballot Fall-off, Virginia General Election, 2000 ............... 67
Table 3.23  Special Election Results in Virginia, 2000 ....................... 67

Chapter 4
Table 4.01  Voter Turnout in Virginia Primary Elections, 1969–2001 .... 89
Table 4.02  Virginia Democratic Primary Election Results, for Lt. Governor, 2001 ................................................................. 91
Table 4.03  Virginia Democratic Primary Election for Lieutenant Governor, Election Results by Congressional Districts, 2001 ... 91
Table 4.04  Virginia Democratic Primary Election Results for Attorney General, 2001 ............................................................. 92
Table 4.05  The Top 10 Localities for Votes for McEachin and Edwards ... 93
Table 4.06  Virginia Democratic Primary Election for Attorney General, Election Results by Congressional Districts, 2001 .......... 95
Table 4.07  Metropolitan Proportions of Statewide Vote in Virginia, 1969–2001 ................................................................. 96
Table 4.08  The Urban Vote, Virginia Democratic Primary for Lt. Governor, 2001 ................................................................. 98
Table 4.09  The Urban Vote, Virginia Democratic Primary for Attorney General, 2001 ............................................................. 98
Table 4.10  Voting in Selected Predominantly Black Precincts in Virginia Cities, Democratic Lt. Governor Primary, 2001 .......... 99
Table 4.11  Voting in Selected Predominantly Black Precincts in Virginia Cities, Democratic Attorney General Primary, 2001 .... 99
Table 4.12  Major Statewide Elections in Virginia by Demographic and Black Voting Patterns, 1969–2001 ................................. 100
Table 4.13  Competition for Party Nominations for Statewide Offices in Virginia, 1977–2001 .......................................................... 101
Table 4.14  Virginia 4th Congressional District Special Election, 2001 ... 104
Table 4.15  2001 Republican Primaries, House of Delegates ............. 105

Chapter 5
Table 5.01  The Ten Keys to the Governor's Mansion, 2001 ............... 131
Table 5.02  Election Results for Statewide Offices, 2001 .................... 135
Table 5.03  Virginia Governor’s Percentage of Vote, 1961–2001 .......... 135
Table 5.04  General Election Results for Statewide Offices, by Congressional District, 2001 ..................................................... 136
Table 5.05  Change in Democrat Percentage for Governor, by Congressional District, 1997–2001 ........................................ 136
Table 5.06  Voter Participation in Gubernatorial Elections in Virginia, 1953–2001 ................................................................. 137
Table 5.07  Voter Turnout in Virginia, 1976–2001 ............................. 138
Table 5.08  The Urban and Rural Vote, Virginia General Elections, 2001 ............................................................................. 140
Table 5.09  Metropolitan Proportions of Statewide Vote in Virginia, 1969–2001 ................................................................. 141
Table 5.10  Voting in Selected Predominantly Black Precincts in Virginia Cities, General Election for Statewide Offices, 2001 .......... 142
Table 5.11  Major Statewide Elections in Virginia By Demographic and Black Voting Patterns, 1969–2001 ............................. 143
Table 5.12  Voter Turnout in Selected Black Precincts vs. Statewide Turnout in Virginia, 1976–2001 ........................................ 144
Table 5.13  Ballot Fall-off, Virginia General Election (All Voters), 2001 ................................................................. 145
Table 5.14  Ballot Fall-off in Virginia Gubernatorial Elections, 1977–2001 ................................................................. 145
Table 5.15  Election Day Poll from the National Republican Congressional Committee ....................................................... 146
Table 5.16  Public Opinion Polls, Virginia Statewide Elections, 2001 ................................................................. 150
Table 5.17  Mark Warner’s Private Campaign Polling, The Horserace for Governor, February 2001 - November 2001 .................... 151
Table 5.18  Selected Results, General Election, Virginia House of Delegates, 2001 ................................................................. 153
Table 5.19  Candidates by Party, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1967–1999 ................................................................. 154
Table 5.20  Re-election Rates, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1979–2001 ................................................................. 154
Table 5.21  Election Results in Open Seats, Virginia House of Delegates, 2001 ................................................................. 155
Table 5.22  Party Representation, Virginia General Assembly, 1967–2001 ................................................................. 156
Table 5.23  Membership Turnover, Virginia General Assembly, 1965–2001 ................................................................. 156
Table 5.24  Membership Turnover by Regional Areas, Virginia General Assembly, 1965–2001 ................................................................. 158
Table 5.25  Vote by Parties, Virginia General Assembly Elections, 1967–1999 ................................................................. 159
Table 5.26  Campaign Spending, Virginia House of Delegates, 2001 Elections ................................................................. 159
Table 5.27  Campaign Spending in Virginia Statewide Elections, 1981–2001 ................................................................. 160
Table 5.28  Money Spent Per Vote, Virginia Statewide Elections, 2001 ................................................................. 160
Table 5.29  Expenditures for Television and Radio, Virginia Statewide Candidates, 2001 ................................................................. 160
Table 5.30  Expenditures for Direct Mail, Virginia Statewide Candidates, 2001 ................................................................. 161
Table 5.31  Spending by Mark Warner’s Campaign and Related Committees, 2001 ................................................................. 161
| Table 5.32 | Get-Out-The-Vote Expenses, Virginia Gubernatorial Candidates, 2001 .................. 162 |

Chapter 6

| Table 6.01 | Election Results, 2002 Virginia General Election for U.S. Senate .................. 182 |
| Table 6.02 | Voting in Selected Predominantly Black Precincts in Virginia Cities, General Election for U.S. Senate, 2002 ........ 182 |
| Table 6.03 | The Urban and Rural Vote, Virginia General Election for U.S. Senate, 2002 .................. 183 |
| Table 6.04 | Election Results, 2002 Virginia General Elections for U.S. House of Representatives ............ 184 |
| Table 6.05 | Campaign Spending, Senate and Congressional Races, 2002 ........................ 185 |
| Table 6.06 | Virginia General Election Results for U.S. House of Representatives, 1980–2002 .......... 186 |
| Table 6.07 | 2002 Special Elections, Results and Campaign Spending .......................... 187 |
| Table 6.08 | Results by Congressional District, 2002 Virginia Election for U.S. Senator, Bond Referenda, and Constitutional Amendments .................. 188 |
| Table 6.09 | Voter Turnout in Virginia, 1976–2002 .................. 188 |
| Table 6.10 | Voting in Selected Predominantly Black Precincts in Virginia Cities, General Election for Bond Referenda and Constitutional Amendments, 2002 .................. 189 |
| Table 6.11 | The Urban and Rural Vote, Virginia General Election for Bond Referenda and Constitutional Amendments, 2002 ........ 189 |
| Table 6.12 | Virginia Bond Issues, 1968–2002 .................. 190 |
| Table 6.13 | Election Results, Proposed Bond Issues, 2002 .................. 191 |
| Table 6.14 | Election Results, Proposed Constitutional Amendments, 2002 .................. 193 |
| Table 6.15 | Vote Totals by Locality, Regional Bond Issue: Eastern Virginia .................. 193 |
| Table 6.16 | Vote Totals by Locality, Regional Bond Issue: Northern Virginia .................. 194 |
| Table 6.17 | Voting in Predominantly Black Precincts, Regional Bond Issue, Eastern Virginia .................. 194 |